Someone sent me a note today asking for prayer. When I got it, I was reminded of that song by Twila Paris. A number of yrs back I went through a very serious trial. It involved outside circumstances I had no control over. That song had just come out and the Lord really used it to hold me up. Anyway I thought I would post the song. I hope it helps someone else as much as it helped me.

There is a way to embed the entire youtube into the message but I can't remember how to do it so here is the link.

Edited for a better link
