Let me tell you a story ?
I hope its real. But from what source ?

The Name of Jesus was not mentioned one time in the story.....god and lord was used but which God and which Lord ?

I know some people that got gold fillings in there teeth, and got cancer with in a year after being prayed for.....

I know one personally and she told me about others, all from the Angola area that went to Lakeland and had Todd lay hands on them !

They seen the gold dust, they received gold fillings in there teeth and it cost them there health and some there life !

Personally I wouldn't trust any thing from Bill Johnson or anyone that is submitted to there authority !

Thanks for the input Bro. Ron.

This is very, very, serious business.

I am so thankful for good teaching and for righteous discernment from others.

When I saw this this morning my first reaction was 'Oh no! please say it ain't so... Bethel is Bill Johnson's church'. But then I thought I'll just hope for the best, maybe God did heal her. I do believe(imo) that a person can be saved/healed regardless of who the vessel is that delivers the message, if it's received in faith. I hope that's the case here, but for her sake I hope she returns to Alaska and gets away from Johnson's influence...probably won't happen.

There's a difference between being jaded, a scoffer, critical, and being discerning. Some criticize me for posting on these false ministries(Bentley/Joyner/Johnson/Wagner...) but the purpose is to expose them to the unsuspecting. If a person does their homework on some of these ministries, or spends time listening or watching video, then they are easier to discern.(of course, some are more easily seen through like T. Bentley)

The whole purpose behind Satan's deceptions is to deceive; anyone can tell when something is an obvious lie but most deceptions are filled with partial truths, twisting of scripture, giving the appearance of good.

I pray God will set His people free from these deceptions and snares of the devil, by opening their/our eyes to the truth. May the charismatic movement wake up and quit chasing 'feel-good' experiences and start grounding themselves in God's Word, so they'll no longer be tossed about with every wind of doctrine and discern for themselves between truth and Satan's lies.
