
Subject: New feature added... need feedback

I just added a new feature that will give the scripture reference when you hover over it with a mouse... for example: Gen 1:1

You can also see the complete context by clicking on the reference.

The only problem I see so far is that if the title of the thread contains only the scripture passage (like a thread with the title of a scripture reference) you can't get into the thread without going to the last message posted. I'll see if there is a work-around without going back and changing all of the scripture references to something different.

If you notice any other anomalies let me know... if it doesn't work out I can always take it off.

[edited to add: You can get to the first message in a thread that has a scripture reference as its title by clicking on the little down arrow in front of the reference!]

[edited again to say that the problem with the title is fixed... now if a scripture reference already has a hyperlink the feature won't do anything to the previous link!]

Blessings,
William
