This is a testimony of a past experience while ministering in a halfway house. The people sit along a wall or in the front part of a congregation type room. I had been ministering in a nursing home when invited to come the same day to the halfway. Then started going weekly. One week this fellow was sitting there and he looked like he was suicidal. I could see that in the Spirit. It was horrible. Well glad I was there to change that. The anointing of God on the music did what David did to Saul. This fellow was up and dancing with joy on his face.

The head preacher in later meetings began to say things in his message to show that revealed he didn't like me. He came up with a scheme to draw people away to himself so they would leave after the messages. That is go to get something at his church. What he was saying was we all don't have to sing so pretty. The people liked my singing as I could see on their faces.

I forgive those like that because God gets all the glory I am just his servant.
