Subject: What next?
Posted by Gary on Mon, 16 Nov 2020 13:48:51 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

With California passing a law that Christians cannot sing in churches we can ask the question; What is next?

There was a time when Christians were told to light a candle and say Caesar is lord, many refused and suffered the consequences.

Many in the churches seem to think eventually this covid 19 will be over and we can get back to normal.

What if it never gets back to what we call normal?

We all know that the Anti-Christ will one day rise up in power there's a good chance he is walking the earth today working through various governments to bring the world to the point where he is revealed.

Covid-19 has shown everyone that its possible to bring nations to their knees using fear and the media. I read an article this morning in our local liberal newspaper saying Christians say they believe in pro life but don't seemed to be concerned with the pleasure of singing which causes the spread of the virus.

It does?

When they signed the law that said you were not allowed to pray for thirty days, Daniel immediately went to his home and as it was his custom knelt down and prayed.

He resisted the law and chose to obey God.

We may be finding ourselves at a cross roads having to make similar decisions in the future. Is it possible?

After all we have been given God's word for some forty or fifty years now depending on when you came to salvation. At least its something to consider.

Either way as the Word tells us God will never leave us or forsake us He is for us and not against us. It may be a matter a time when they take down all Christian information on the internet. They already restrict some information on Face book saying it is inappropriate.

Our future is in the Lord's hands. Even so may the Lord count us worthy to escape all things coming on this earth. Come quickly Lord Jesus.

In Him,
Gary