Hi guys. Greetings from Kapaskasing. Ontario. If you don't know where that is then I understand perfectly. It's way up north. Usually there is 18 feet of snow here but for some reason it all fell in Virginia this yr leaving very little snow here. 13 degrees celius today.

Anyway my truck is broke down and I'm sitting here. 2 weeks ago I spent the whole week in a hotel room in North Bay Ontario for the same reason. Hopefully it won't happen this time and I'll be out of here soon.

See you guys on the weekend.

Hey Mark,

Sorry about the breakdown, stay warm. We're getting monsoon rains here in Alabama today, lightening and thunder like crazy, if it was cold enough we'd have several feet of snow.

It's raining so hard the streets are flooded and the sewers are shooting water backing up through the manholes.

I think I just saw a boat go up the street....
