Someone put some info together. I don't know if any of it is true or not. What I do know is that I don't believe anything our gov't tells us.

The really interesting thing I noticed was the comment about all this happening the same week Congress passed the CISPA bill taking away everyones right to privacy.

When you add that to the bush administration passing the Patriot act you are left with Americans not having any civil rights.

I don't know what the truth is on a lot of this stuff. It wouldn't surprise me to see a dictatorship arise in America though. Which seems to be where everything is heading.

Be careful on that first site some of the pics of the dead guy are quite graphic.

Only one word comes to mind when I seen the content of this article.

"Propaganda"

I cannot imagine the government being involved in some elaborate bombing just to pass a law. For one thing if they want to pass a law they just pass it anyway no matter what the common man thinks about it.

Secondly I'm not much on all these what if end time scenarios that we see going around. God is in sovereign control and it is Him and Him alone who decides who will rule over a people.

So much is going on in this world and I think its become magnified because of the media and the internet's ability to show everything happening in real time. Violence has once again filled the earth as in the days of Noah.

When all that was going on with tracking down the 2nd bomber, and they finally caught him everyone started clapping and cheering.

It reminded me of the two witnesses in revelations and the whole world would see them dead in the streets and they gave gifts and celebrated.

For me if some of that information turns out to be true I can only say I am glad that I am under the shadow of His wings. Thanks for sharing it, its good to be aware of what is being said in many circles.

How about this one, I know someone from are meetings who is convinced the government is going to shut off everyone's electricity soon. They wanted me to build them an outhouse and put in an old time water pump outside. Some people are literally taking all of this information out there to heart.
