A certain serious gentleman, cannot release his name yet. Has brought attention to this movement. Popular singers are a opportunity to attract people to the Ecumenical movement. 1. Chris Tomlin has been writing songs with Mahler for few years. Mahler like Redman have said they were Christians but the they are really Catholics. They both are seen bowing on their knees to the Pope.

Greg Laurie is seen and heard speaking to his "good friend" Alice Cooper. Look what he said to Alice who says he is a Christian. Greg--- God gave you a gift and you are using it. His gift is showing demonic , occult entertainment. With hard rock.

Kari Jobe has embraced the Jesus gone to fight for the keys from Satan Heresy. Many like Lauren Daigle who teaches another religion, have sold out to Sony recordings. money is a key factor. Another part of the problem is many conferences by so called leaders, who teach heretical or super error in doctrine. T.D.Jakes is a oneness preacher who cause people to fall under the power. Heresy plus power doesn't work for me.

The sad part is if we sing their songs we promote them. A great song without Christ is like a angel of light. My calling is to tell truth and it may hurt but the option for all hearers is you have something better to offer. My songs come from the Holy Spirit or from conservative camps. Ask yourself, do they believe the faith message. Also what do they believe that lines up with God's word.

Notice how the word embrace is used in the song Oceans. My discernment reveals something that I cannot say here. Oh and don't search for it. So you know, I am a worship leader.
