Subject: The Bridegroom delaying his coming
Posted by Mark L on Sat, 15 Nov 2014 17:11:10 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

This has been on my mind for a while. Rather than thinking it I think I'll speak it out loud.

Mat 25/5

In 1982 Israel invaded Lebanon mainly to root out the PLO. When they did so they found mountains of Soviet military equipment stored there. Which came as a complete surprise to them. As most of you probably know for an army of any size to travel any distance all their equipment has to be moved into place. Its a huge logistical problem. Moving the men into place is the easy part. The Russians did this without anyone in the west or Israel knowing about it.

About that time a man who I believe "at times" stood in the office of a prophet stood up and said by the word of the Lord "I am turning the clock back to give you time to prepare" I believe the clock being turned back referred to the holding back of the War of Gog and Magog. The Russian military equipment was there in preparation for that war.

One of the ways that God brings his purposes to pass or to bring his will out of the spiritual realm into this world is through the prophetic utterance of prophets and apostles. That was the case here.

I believe we are in the time "The bridegroom has delayed his coming. It began with the holding back of the this war and this time will end with this war going forward.

While I don't believe that time (war) is here yet I do believe it is most definitely on the horizon. I think end time events in the world have been moving forward yet at the same time we don't see the stuff Jesus in Matt 24 spoke of for eg. I think it is coming.

This war occurs for definite reasons. It will open the door for the end time events spoken of by Jesus to begin to take place.

It should always be noted in discussions of this type that the day we live in is â€œThe day of the Lordâ€• Its not the day of the devil. GOD is going to deal with his church, his ancient people Israel and the world. One of the tools in his hand is the devil.