
Subject: Re: Bulletin Board

Posted by GWB on Tue, 25 Oct 2011 23:51:49 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

"Same with certain foods; if I came to your house and was offered fried foods and iced tea, rather than risk offending anyone I'd pray over it and give thanks and eat(probably a modest portion)."

Ouch to stereotyping Southern people. Aren't you one of them too!

I appreciate the honesty and lists!

However.....that was not considered "totally" trusting God at FA. Oh no!!!!.....

BTW...you might be overlapping with some of those supplements. Your local pharmacist could tell you a lot!

It seems that you have butted heads with some of the teaching.

FA people did not "do" vitamins.

Does that mean that you are now not "totally" trusting in God due to the fact that you are not walking in everything that was said and done at FA?

Again, where do we draw the line?

Where Jesus wants us to, that's where.

Let every man be convinced in his own heart....100%

BTW....I'll still fellowship with ya!.....
