

---

Subject: My experience with Jesus today.

Posted by David Coleman on Thu, 07 Dec 2023 02:40:09 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

As I was worshipping this morning, I found it full of God's presence. The things God was telling me were so joyful. They were huge blessings and the joy was so full. Then the anointing for tongues came upon me. Even travail. God was preparing me for this early evening. Now I know it was comfort.

The news came from the Sheriff in North Alabama. Someone noticed my younger brother had not been seen lately. They barged his door and found him dead. They found he had been dead for 3 or more weeks. he was barely recognizable. This was chaos to me. For 2 years sharing Jesus with him and he became more uninterested. My heart is sad though comforted. We were close through life.

The Lord reminded me of my post on intercession yesterday. God knows our tomorrows and he will comfort us by his Holy Spirit. Thank you Jesus for tongues. I may find I was praying for more than I know yet. May God have mercy on my other 2 brothers. Because my sins are forgiven I know I have hope.

---