The space problem has been fixed in the Book by Book section so keep those Proverbs coming!

Thanks William,

I went through the thread and edited it...It's more readable now.

I'm going to see what happens to the html formatted message in the Outline section when I turn the feature off... in just a second.

Looks like the format stays even when switched back to the FUD option...
So if anyone needs to post an html webpage I can turn it back on a temporary basis and then switch it back for regular posts.

Gillyann, do you have more of the Old Testament Theology outline typed up that I do? If not, I'll finish mine up in the next couple of days.

Blessings,

William
