
Subject: Insurance deadline
Posted by Gary on Sat, 19 Oct 2013 13:40:12 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The reason I logged back on is to say we just have to March till were forced to buy insurance.

Quote: (CNN) -- Obamacare has survived a Supreme Court appeal, a government shutdown and ongoing challenges by opposing politicians. With few exceptions, every American must have health insurance by March 31 or pay a penalty fee.

There is so many living on the government now that they have to find a way to pay for all this money given out. I know of a lot of people having children out of marriage and the government freely supports them with our taxes.

But it does no good to rant and rave, I think for now its cheaper to pay the fine. Some insurance companies charge 600.00 a month or more per individual for health insurance.

I think its just one more area the government is trying to control the people in this country.

Gary

Subject: Re: Insurance deadline
Posted by dscott on Thu, 28 Nov 2013 14:37:44 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The fine goes up every year, but we're not getting it. I also think it will be hard for them to collect, they have put that in the hands of the IRS and if you don't have any returns you may not have to pay, however this may catch up with a few years down the road?

Subject: Re: Insurance deadline
Posted by Gary on Fri, 29 Nov 2013 12:06:57 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

dscott wrote on Thu, 28 November 2013 08:37The fine goes up every year, but we're not getting it. I also think it will be hard for them to collect, they have put that in the hands of the IRS and if you don't have any returns you may not have to pay, however this may catch up with a few years down the road?

James is up on all this tax stuff. I think the fine is only 95.00 the first year, so its cheaper now to pay the fine. I heard it will eventually be thousands of dollars.

There is a thread here where he goes into some detail.

<http://overcomersonline.com/FUDforum2/index.php?t=msg&th=550&start=0&S=58689b7848e22205c898161dd2d4a735>

Subject: Re: Insurance deadline
Posted by Gary on Fri, 20 Dec 2013 10:36:25 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I seen a news clip that said; Married couples that make over 60000.00 would be penalized and would have to pay extra money under Obamacare. Someone single making the same money would get a break and they would pay less money.

If someone chooses not to get married in this country its almost to their benefit. They can receive all kinds of free government help. College paid for, money for support if they have children out of marriage. I would venture to say 90% of the youth are living in fornication with the governments encouragement.

In another article it read that the average person on government help makes around 26,000.00 a year, more money then what minimum wage pays. Why work if that's the case?

Society as we know it, is breaking down before our eyes.

Gary