Anybody having problems with the board? When I open up some topics it becomes the wide view. I have not changed anything on my end.

Sometimes also when I first open up the site it looks like a moderators board with all types of extra stuff, then when I press home it goes back to normal.

Just wondering if there was a bug here somewhere.

Gary

Yes Gary,

it was wide for me too, but now is normal. Must be gremlins.

Gremlins..... (little demons)

Occult alert! Occult alert!

Bwahahahahah!!!

Can we have one conversation without getting hung up on something?

I have laughed so hard today!!!

William,

Do you know why the pages are wider all of a sudden on the board? The home page is fine but any page under a topic is opening up real wide.

I have not changed any of the settings on my profile.

Thanks for any help here,

Gary

P.S. I just checked and I think its only on the new categories that have been added.

I'm not sure what would cause that behavior, but if it is only happening in the new sections it must be something I forgot to set correctly on my end. I'll see if I can track it down and get it fixed!

Blessings,
William

William,

Thanks a lot, whatever you did fixed the problem.
