Subject: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by Anonymous Please on Tue, 22 Apr 2014 15:54:59 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I was just reading someone's ideas about levels of biblical authority. I've always thought that repetition of a biblical concept is an important factor. For example there are 3 verses that say that water baptism is in Jesus name, and a number of other NT verses that further support that doctrine about baptism in a name, etc. All those makes that a solid biblical doctrine. I've often used it to see if professing believers are actually willing to APPLY the clear will of God. If they won't follow clear scripture that is simple and plain, how will they commit their live to the death?? Faith without works is dead. Thank you. True believers in the will of God - respect His scriptures.

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by james on Tue, 22 Apr 2014 23:53:51 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I would be suprised to know that anyone here didn't know that, and probably HAVE been baptized in Jesus' Name. If you recall Bro. Freeman taught that 40 years ago. Don't make the assumption you're being ignored or are being unfairly judged. Most members just read without comment and some go weeks or even months without posting, which is perfectly OK.

Give it a few days, I'd imagine you'll get some questions and comments on the posts you've made. Everyone isn't sitting at a computer 24/7...

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by JWBTI on Wed, 23 Apr 2014 00:31:55 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hello Apostle,
How did you come by your calling ?
Where are you located in south Florida ? I have people down there, Naples,
Fort Myers, Arcadia, St Pete and Clearwater.

Yep.....baptized in Jesus Name

Hey James, it has been awhile hasn't it ?.....smile !

Ron

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by Anonymous Please on Wed, 23 Apr 2014 17:04:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Many of the former Faith Assembly people don't really seem to place importance on that doctrine anymore (even omitted from some statements of faith). Also most churches don't practice it and most pastors and members won't deal with the scriptures on it. I have seen it as important in sharing over the years and still a timely and current issue. I really wouldn't trust a person that wouldn't come around to it. It tells a lot about people's love for God.

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by Anonymous Please on Wed, 23 Apr 2014 17:16:30 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

PS - what I read in this article had omitted the primary importance of heavy supporting scripture, so I wanted to comment on it. It's from somebody I'm following very closely these days. Thanks.

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by Anonymous Please on Wed, 23 Apr 2014 17:20:10 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

This may be the first place I've been in a long time where people may actually be seeking to see restoration of NT Christianity. A lot of other people have seemed to follow with the end time apostasy and lukewarm end time church. Thanks again.

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by Mark L on Wed, 23 Apr 2014 23:42:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Nice to see you back JW.

Most members just read without comment and some go weeks or even months without posting, which is perfectly OK.

x2

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by JWBTI on Thu, 24 Apr 2014 21:06:42 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Thanks Mark,

I never really left, I was just being quiet !

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by Anonymous Please on Thu, 24 Apr 2014 21:52:25 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Apostleship is not something to be high minded about. Rather it is a responsibility (and a large one in these end times with so much deception in religion).

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by Anonymous Please on Thu, 24 Apr 2014 21:53:50 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

PS - I received my call to Apostleship when Jesus appeared to me similar to Paul in Acts 9.

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by Anonymous Please on Thu, 24 Apr 2014 21:59:04 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

PSS - I posted a short message in the last section - Eternal Purposes Revealed. Thanks and God bless.

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by JWBTI on Thu, 24 Apr 2014 22:26:07 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The fact that you claim to be an apostle, does that mean that you came here to set yourself over us and to hold us accountable to your authority ?

We are submissive one to another,tho none of us claim to be anything other than Saved by Grace thru Faith in Jesus Christ.

If you are truly an apostle, we will know you by your Fruit !

Time will tell !

Subject: Re: Levels of Biblical Authority
Posted by Mark L on Thu, 24 Apr 2014 23:19:05 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

PS - I received my call to Apostleship when Jesus appeared to me similar to Paul in Acts 9.

Can you tell us about that? I realize some of it may be private but people in the bible shared a lot.

I realize this may sound like a stupid question but ... what did he look like? Can you share anything of what he showed you?

I saw the Lord once. Taken into the spiritual realm in a dream. He never said anything to me just walked by and smiled to me. It happened when I had been through a number of serious trials and he wanted to encourage me.

Apostleship is not something to be high minded about.

I agree. I have long been of the opinion that anyone with a true call will have gotten rid of the pride long before stepping into that office

---